Interest Checklist

September 2, 2008

We are piloting the use of the updated interest checklist on the MOHO website devised by South West and Georges NHS trust. Do OT's use the last sheet all the time (the goal setting sheet) or is it optional?

I do not tend to use it in the formal assessment, as much of the time, I use the IC as part of several assessments, so wouldn't make goals having only completed this assessment, but would combine the interests of the client with other information to decide on a therapy timetable.

Hi

As one of the developers of the tool, my view is that there is scope for considerable flexibility here. If you are providing a discreet intervention focused on leisure participation it may make sense to use the form on the Interest Checklist, but if as Helen stated, it is part of a broader assessment process then the summary form may be redundant.
